

Interim agreement between CWU and Royal Mail on Mount Pleasant Nursery

Working jointly with the CWU and the current childcare provider, Royal Mail has agreed to review opportunities to retain the crèche facility currently provided at Mount Pleasant Mail Centre.

To allow sufficient time to thoroughly explore and evaluate options and to provide certainty and stability to parents who currently use the facility, the crèche will now remain open beyond the previously planned closure date of November 2011.

The crèche will now remain open until at least April 2012.

However, a final decision on the future of the crèche will be reached well in advance of this date to provide all affected parties with sufficient notice of any changes resulting from the review.

Royal Mail, CWU and the childcare provider will meet early in September to agree terms of reference for the review which will include evaluating future demand for the facility, sustainability of the facility and operating models which address the current cost to Royal Mail.
