

DAY 5 – FRIDAY 26TH JUNE, – NOTTINGHAM

We heading north on the M1 today to Nottingham for another public stall. We were hopeful of a successful day on the back of some stunning work the Nottingham Branch have been doing in relation to the Keep The Post Public campaign. Our hopes were well founded we had a great day and just as everywhere else this week, the public were totally onboard with our campaign.

The local newspaper attended and took some photos and an interview. But more pleasingly ITV turned up with their TV cameras and filmed us and spoke to members of the public, this footage was to be shown on Central news later that day.

QUOTES FROM THE DAY

*“It is important that this Labour Government stand by their manifesto commitment and retain a 100% publically owned Royal Mail” – Simon Edmunds, Branch Secretary, Nottingham & District

*“Today is the crescendo of 17 days of canvassing in Nottingham, in which we have amassed in excess of 15,000 signatures on our petitions and done over 30 press releases. EAT THAT MANDY!” – Darren Glebocki, Branch Chairman, Nottingham & District

*“I’m not gonna stand by and allow Mandleson to privatise the Royal Mail, Jess would never forgive me!” – Postman Pat, Delivery OPG

Another fantastic day, a really good response from the public (again) and hopefully some decent media coverage. Excellent stuff.

Sincere thanks to the Nottingham & District Branch for all their hard work today and throughout the campaign.

Onward now to the final day in Derby at the Regional TUC Executive Meeting.
