STRENGTH IN NUMBERS!

CWU Organisers are currently visiting Royal Mail workplaces across the country to engage with you and your colleagues who are not yet members of the CWU. We hope to encourage non-members to consider the benefits of joining up and getting involved.

Although the CWU has a very high proportion of Royal Mail staff in the union, we firmly believe that there is strength in numbers and that the more members we have the more representative we are of the workforce.

We are therefore asking how existing members can get more involved in the union themselves and how they can encourage non-members to sign up too.

YOUR REPS ARE YOUR CONNECTION

All Royal Mail workplaces have hard working CWU Reps on hand to provide a range of advice, representation and support on employment issues, but in addition to this they are your connection to the wider union.

They keep you informed on what is happening in your local branch and across the union nationally and this needs to be a two way street.

This means being more connected to the wider union and raising the issues that matter to you and your colleagues at the highest levels of the union and helps to improve the democracy of our union.

MAKE YOUR VOICE COUNT!

The CWU wants to deepen this connection by setting up workplace committees in every unit to support the great work already done by the rep.

The role would be to assist the rep in Non–IR matters such as communications, newsletters, organising meetings, managing the notice board and involving women, youth, LGBT, and BME.

Anyone who is a member can get involved and every one’s voice helps to strengthen and improve the benefits of the union for all members!
