What can the CWU do for women in your workplace?

- Provide one-to-one advice on issues in the workplace
- Share up to date knowledge of employment law
- Protect from discrimination
- Advice on flexible working
- Advice on maternity rights
- Advice on performance management
- Supply courses to enhance knowledge and skills (in and out of the workplace)
Something for the women in work

There is no force equal to that of a woman determined to rise.

*Office for National Statistics 2013

Something for the women in work

47% UK WORKFORCE

24% CWU’s T&FS MEMBERS

www.cwu.org

Dave Ward General Secretary